STATE COMMANDER'S MESSAGE

COMRADES COOTIES & AUXILIARY MEMBERS

“The time is Now!” And with that said, Fritz Mihelcic, the newly elected Commander-in-Chief, brought the 122nd National Convention of the Veterans of Foreign Wars of the United States to a successful conclusion. For the first time in 24 months Comrades from across our great country and around the world were able to assemble as one body to conduct the business of the greatest organization of combat Veterans in the world and to hear and see candidates nominated for elective office before casting their ballots. Great or What!!!

To be certain, all was not what one would be accustomed to if you were a “veteran” (pardon the pun) convention goer. Gone were the throngs of vendors and healthcare advocates. Local venues were often short staffed and wait times were increased everywhere. And, at the 23rd hour, an indoor mask mandate was put in place. Despite all of this and more, the VFW rocked this convention and it resulted in one of the most successful conventions I have attended. Veterans did what Veterans do best; Improvise, Adapt and Overcome... (Sorry, it's not just a Marine thing)

As we look forward, plans are in the works for our Fall Council of Administration meeting which will take place at the Embassy Suites Hotel in Greensboro, NC October 1-3.

Jr. Vice Commander-in-Chief Duane Sarmiento will be the National Representative for the VFW and Secretary/Treasurer Ann Pantelkos will be the National Representative for the Auxiliary. Meetings and an afternoon of training will be the order of the day and once again, our banquet/dinner theme will celebrate Halloween. So dig out your best (or worst) costume and plan on evenings of fun with the band “For the People” providing entertainment for both Friday and Saturday nights in the Hospitality Room.

Preparing to go to press over the past several days, we have watched the situation unfold in Afghanistan, which has surely turned into a humanitarian disaster. Our thoughts and prayers are with the people of Afghanistan who have suffered so much along with our brothers and sisters in arms, whether currently serving, Veterans or one who has made the ultimate sacrifice. Please know that your efforts have not been in vain and that we stand with you to help in any way we can.

May God Bless each of you!

SPARTA VFW POST 7034 - BACK IN BUSINESS

VFW Post 7034 did not let a 5.1 earthquake stop them as the post immediately made plans to restore their damaged building. These plans were put into effect to repair the damaged areas of the building which consisted of new foundation walls, interior walls, flooring and the reconditioning of the museum.

To celebrate the newly refurbished post building an open house was held with the general public, post members, their families, community officials, VFW Department officers and NC State Representatives in attendance. Project Manager Doug Blevins expressed appreciation to the contractors, the community and the state of NC for their support in putting VFW Post 7034 “Back In Business.”

(LtoR) Past State Cdr. Doug Blevins, Post Cdr. Gary Adkins, Post Auxiliary President Diana Hubbard and Department Auxiliary President Sandra Johnson-Leu.

(LtoR) Past State Commander Doug Blevins, Drew Cristy, Western Regional Director for Governor Cooper and State Commander Russ Chambers visit the Veterans Museum.

On July 6-7, 2021 VFW Post 8989 and VFW Post 6365 along with District 12 came together for a common cause. An Auxiliary member of Post 8989 has Stage 4 cancer and needed some money to survive while going through treatment. District Commander Bobbi Sheets spoke to Post 8989 Commander Tony Gullidge and suggested that instead of hot dogs that they have a chicken dinner sale. The profit is much higher and the guys from Post 6365 love to use their smokers for a great cause.

Tickets were presold, bands were planned, baskets were made, cakes were baked, bikes were washed and before you knew it $15,000 was raised.

VFW Post Auxiliary Treasurer, Donna Guy said, "We are definitely blessed for the comradeship within our organizations to always know someone has your back no matter the circumstance. This event embodies the spirit of the VFW organization. If one is in need, we all are in need."

EDITOR'S COMMENTS

GREETINGS COMRADES!

As we start a new membership year our Department begins in a great position, despite the challenges of 2020 and early 2021.

North Carolina finished the year with membership at 101% of the previous year and has been awarded All-American status. Department Commander Victor Letourneaut was honored at the National Convention in Kansas City for having earned All-American status.

In addition to the Department, 31 posts and eight districts in North Carolina were announced in July as All-American for the year 2020-2021. This shows the drive and tenacity that pushed us above and beyond.

The VFW of North Carolina remains strong, and we will no doubt continue to thrive through the new year. The criteria for Commander-in-Chief Fritz Mihelcic's membership program has been announced with an increased concentration on reporting through the All-American Dashboard. The dashboard can be intimidating for District and Post adjutants, but Department Commander Russ Chambers and the NC leadership team stand ready to assist our comrades in using this tool.

As the global pandemic surges and recedes and surges again, we march on, "ranks grown thinner" as the funeral prayer says. We will continue to show that we accept the challenge of not only retaining our current membership, but replacing those we have lost with new members and by attracting transfers from other states.

I stand proud to call North Carolina my VFW Home.

Understanding Health Insurance and You.

Health insurance can be confusing. That's why we broke it down into easy-to-understand language in Part One of our Understanding Health Insurance and You miniseries. In Part Two of our series, we'll help you rethink your relationship with your health insurance company for the better. Here's how.

Your insurance company is your partner in health.

Your health insurance company can be a valuable partner in your health and wellness. After all, you both want the same thing: for you to be as healthy and happy as possible. Improving your health can make a positive impact on your quality of life while reducing your healthcare costs. Embrace conversations with your carrier. Lean on your carrier to help you navigate the healthcare system. Ask your carrier for support and advice.

Rethink your insurance relationship— and your benefits.

Many Humana Medicare Advantage plans, for example, include SilverSneakers® and Go365® benefits. SilverSneakers gives beneficiaries access to certain gyms and recreation centers as well as on-demand and virtual classes nationwide. Class offerings range from strength training to tai chi, yoga to Zumba. Programs like this help remove barriers to staying active and create a sense of community whether online or off.

Humana's Go365 is a wellness program that rewards Medicare Advantage members for completing eligible health activities such as getting preventative screenings, social and health education activities, fitness activities and community programs.

Every eligible action earns rewards that can then be redeemed for more than $300 in gift cards through the Go365 Mall to use online or in store at national retailers such as Target, Amazon, Walmart, Shell, Lowes, Kroger, CVS, Walgreens and more.

Your insurer wants you to stay as healthy as possible for long as possible. That's why they may offer services and screenings at no additional cost to you. Take advantage of those. If you're not sure what your insurer covers, review your Summary of Benefits, ask your licensed health insurance sales Agent or call your insurer for help. Your insurer has a team of people ready and waiting to help you make the most of your plan.

Your insurer can help you be a student of health. Your insurer can teach you how to make small, healthy choices throughout your day that contribute to ongoing health and wellness. Humana, for example, offers ongoing classes through Neighborhood Centers on a variety of topics, whether it's collecting cooking tips or learning how to meditate. Learn about upcoming virtual classes, which are open to anyone, not just Humana members.

How your insurer can help you.

Check to see if your insurer has local offices to help you make the most out of your health plan. Most insurers have Care and Case Managers who can guide you in understanding both your plan and your medical needs. These people can help you connect to local resources and providers. They can help you find solutions to problems. You might also ask what community-based resources your carrier offers in your community. For example, Humana's Bold Goal initiative works at the grassroots level to improve community health from the ground up. We aim to make healthcare more human by looking at you as a whole person, not just a member.

PTSD STAMP UPDATE

Our Mission continues with the promotion and energy necessary to insure the continuation of the PTSD Postage Stamp which is being featured in order to increase awareness of a timeless disorder that effects our Veterans. Navy Veteran Garland Bram Denny, who passed away in 2015, was instrumental in the ten year journey to introduce the stamp. Since this time the stamp has been made available to all post offices throughout the country with a portion of the proceeds going to research and the US Department of Veterans Affairs.

This Stamp is raising funds right now!

Sue Tucker Denny, daughter of Garland Denny, and their family are working along with hundreds of other citizens to continue with this effort. Currently more than 12.6 million Healing PTSD stamps have been sold, bringing the total revenue raised to more than $1.2 million which represents months of sales by the people - for the people. By law, 100% of the net amount raised is transferred to the Department of Veterans Affairs to support those suffering from PTSD. The stamp will continue to be sold until December 2021, after which, it is hoped that your voice will help make the Healing PTSD Stamp permanent. Visit our website and add your name to support the continuation of the PTSD stamp. (Sales information through July 2021)

VFW POST 8466 NATIONAL FIRE FIGHTER OF THE YEAR

As the Wake Forest Fire Department celebrates its 100th anniversary, a large group of Fire Fighters, Friends and Family members gathered at the Fire Station No. 1 on August 18, 2021, as Joe Csuka, Commander of Wake Forest Memorial VFW Post 8466 presents a most prestigious National Fire Fighter of the Year 2020, to Captain Ian Moffatte. Captain Moffatte is a 13 year veteran, serving first as a member of a Fire Truck prior to being assigned to administrative duties. The citation signed by the Commander-in-Chief, Veterans of Foreign Wars, highlighted the service and dedication of this extraordinary member of the Wake Forest Fire Department. It should be noted that this award was presented as the most well written presentation of over 1600 community posts throughout the country. During the ceremony Chief Ron Early and Captain Ed Bennett praised the performance of Captain Moffatte for his excellent leadership during the recent pandemic by ensuring the department received the equipment to manage the impact of the Corona Virus while providing his expertise to neighboring departments. Ian is married to Michelle and they have a lovely 10 year old daughter, Lily. After receiving the National award by Post Commander Csuka, Ian thanked the officers of the department for his nomination, and the VFW for orchestrating the nomination through the variety of steps to the national level and the people attending the ceremony.
